Attorney General John Ashcroft
US Department of Justice

Dear Mr. Ashcroft:

I am in favor of the agreement reached in the Microsoft antitrust case. I would like to see the remaining states that are not party to the agreement, settle the case as well. I think their position is ridiculous. It is a shame they have not made the wise decision that the Department of Justice has made to put the case to rest.

The terms of the settlement agreement are fair and reasonable. Upon approval of the agreement, Microsoft will change the way they handle their relationships with computer manufacturers who install software that compete with Windows. They have also agreed to grant manufacturers new rights so they may configure Windows to run with other features of the competition's software programs.

Nothing more should be expected or required of Microsoft than what is contained in the settlement agreement. Thank you for your time and your efforts to settle this lawsuit.

Sincerely,

Kalman V. Illyefalvi and Phyllis S. Illyefalvi
